

Change Talk

The only thing constant in the world is change

So who's to blame when change destroys nations?

Change is harsh

Change is fierce

Especially when you don't have change to reverse the change that has preventably changed your life

If I could change just one thing it would be the change we spend on war and bureaucratic nonsense

And sometimes I feel like I don't have the power to change a damn thing because they tell me I'm worthless

But what they don't know is I don't have change in my pocket to buy a now and later but I got super change power in my brain to change some folk's pain.

And tomorrow I will change my shoes and socks. Which don't have nothing to do with this but I'm gone say it just for a change

So with all this change talk and change talk what am I trying to say?

Give me your change to put towards change and speak change until change happens